About Us

With our innovative platform, we are redefining the landscape of livestock auction livestreams. In the world of livestock auctions, the age-old tradition of advertising has long been represented by physical signs elegantly displayed in the auction ring. At Bluestem Digital, we recognize the importance of preserving tradition while embracing the opportunities of the digital age. That's why we're excited to introduce a fresh approach to advertising partnerships by integrating them directly into our livestreams and other digital offerings. We are not just bridging the gap between tradition and technology; we're propelling it into the future. Join us as we revolutionize the way businesses connect with the rural community.

Honestly, we might have named the product wrong.

Sure, it's called Purina® Wind and Rain® Cattle Mineral. But that might just be like selling a banana for the peel.

With palatability and bioavailability as effective as its weatherability, calling it just one thing isn't enough. With these abilities combined, your herd eats what they need and not through your profits.
